CLIMATE HOPE

This poetry anthology is the result of an international co-creation between students in four schools in four different countries in Europe. Students and teachers have explored learning for sustainable development within the framework of the Sustainable Poetry and E-Twinning project.

They have explored poetry as a way to make their voice heard for a sustainable future. It is important to listen to students - their thoughts and ideas can be the key to shaping a future which we can all be proud of.

In this digital poetry anthology, you get to meet students in Sweden, Italy, Serbia and Turkey who raise their voices for a sustainable future. The poems explore and highlight sustainability issues and important topics about the future of our planet. Dive into this treasure trove of poetry that sheds light on this year's theme Climate Hope.

Read, discuss and be inspired by the poems. Thanks to all the young poets and teachers who co-created in Sustainable Poetry this academic year.

Pavle and Mladen

Life's dance with oxygen so fine, Nutritious food, a human right a heavenly feast, in every breath
The magic of life, a sustainable life

Noel

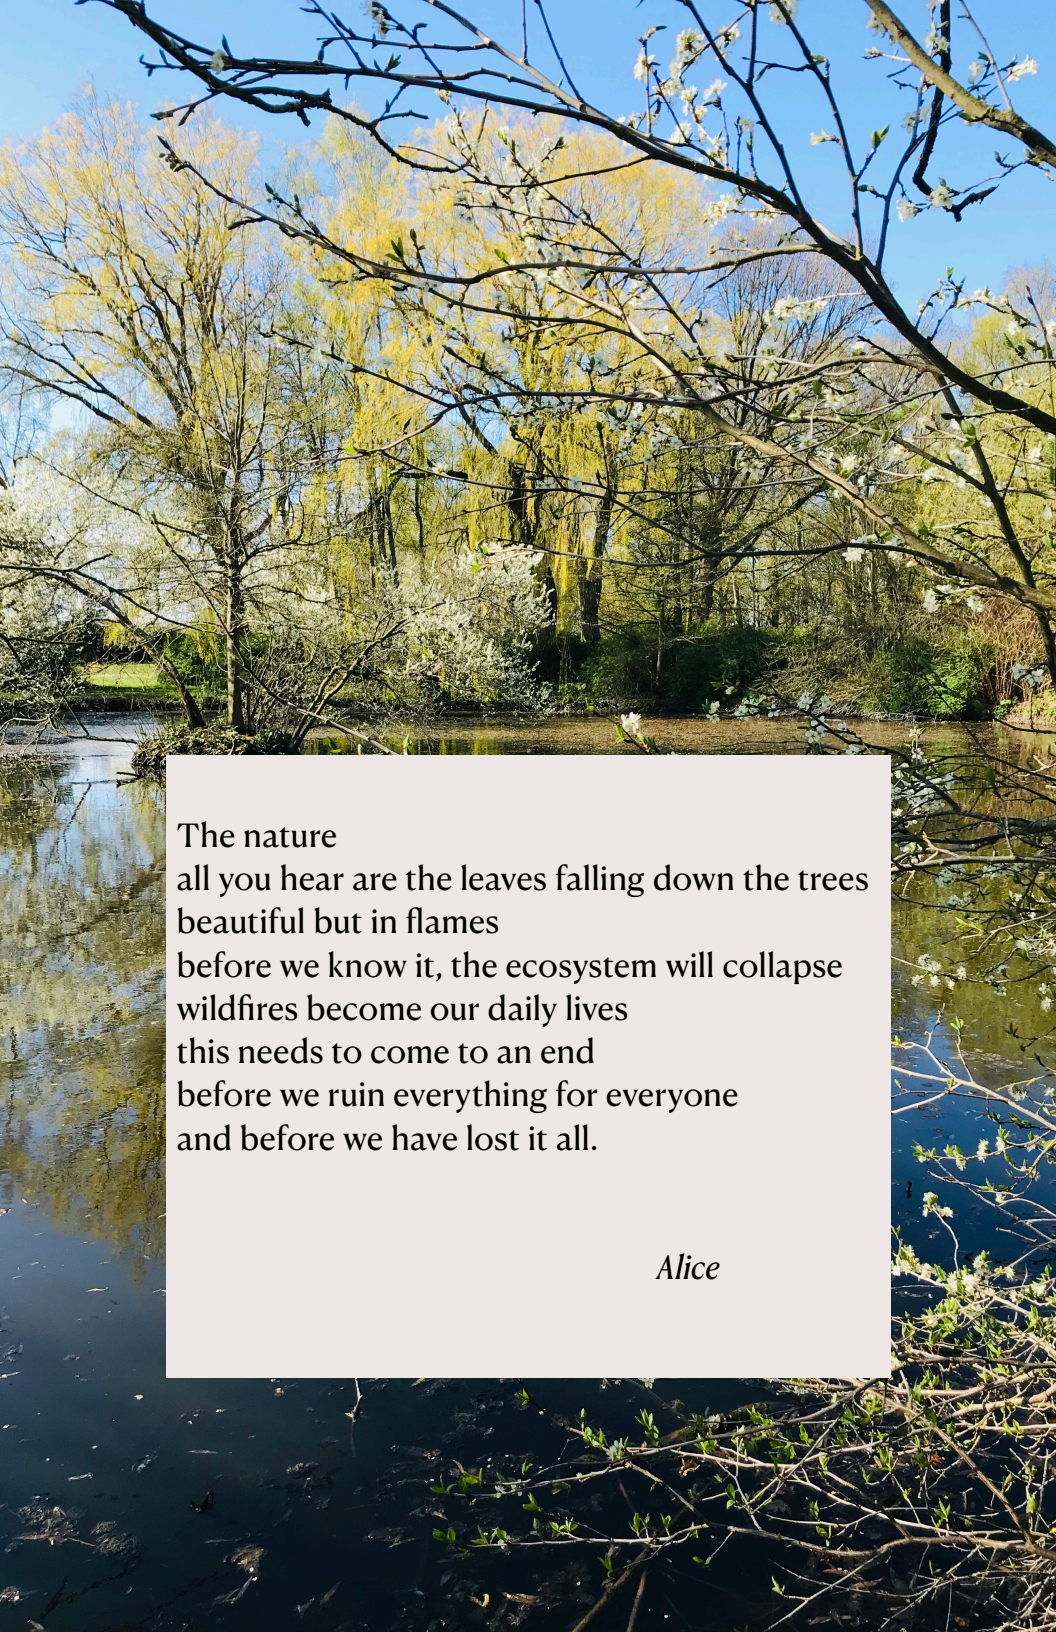

In a desert's thirst, in which life stands still you wish for water first, then more, until it's quenched the dance of the climate, a thirsty melody mourning in private, searching for remedy to trust when we must, to resist the selfish lust all the governments' broken promises, I promise this water, hydration, life for your daughter, your nation, for your life

Hugo

The background image shows a dense, green forest. On the left side, there is a stone bridge with arches, and below it, a dark tunnel entrance. The sky is blue with some white clouds. The text is overlaid on a white rectangular box in the center of the image.

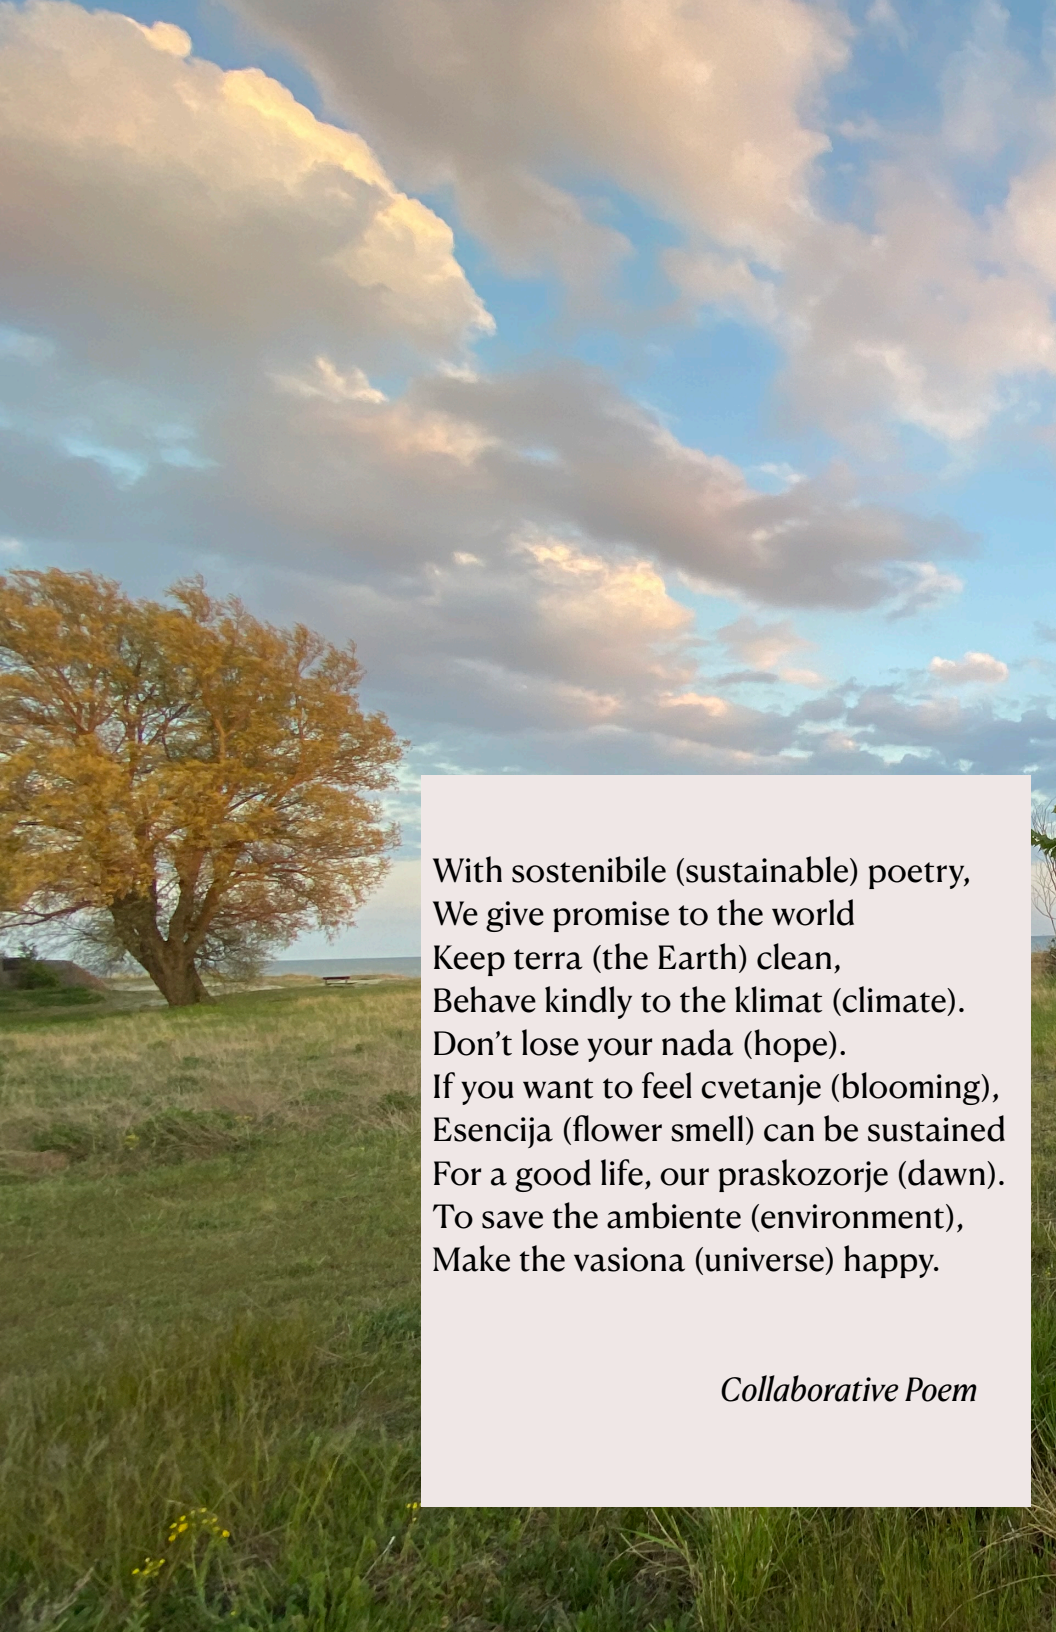

Climate,
With big Nada (Hope),
With the sostenibile (sustainable) world,
Don't change the klimat (climate)
By making the area dirty,
We must save the world by protecting Terra
(the Earth)
Make the ambiente (environment) clean To smell esencia (the flower smell) when blooming
To protect natura (nature), vasiona (universe)
With the biggest SEVGI (LOVE) of life

Collaborative Poem

A scenic view of a pond surrounded by trees with yellow and white blossoms under a clear blue sky. The water reflects the surrounding greenery and the sky. In the foreground, there are dark, bare branches with small white blossoms. The background features a dense line of trees, including weeping willows with bright yellow leaves, and a small building partially visible on the right.

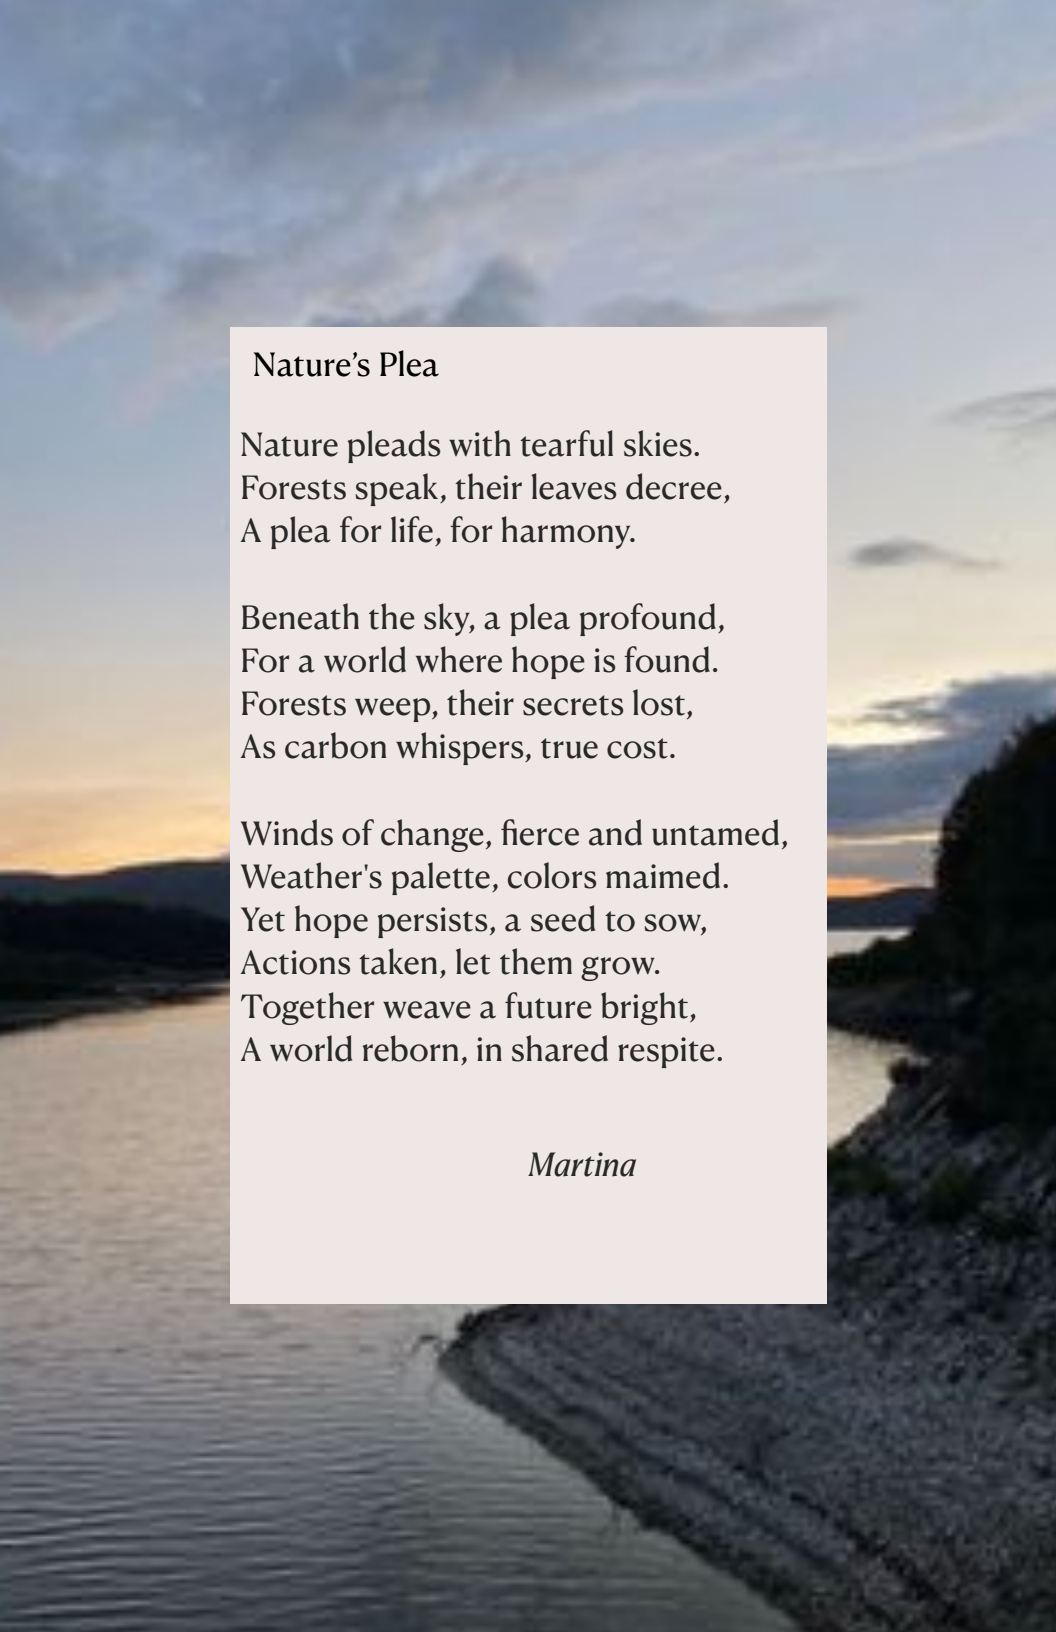

The nature
all you hear are the leaves falling down the trees beautiful but in flames before we know it, the ecosystem will collapse wildfires become our daily lives this needs to come to an end before we ruin everything for everyone and before we have lost it all.

Alice

With sostenible (sustainable) poetry,
We give promise to the world
Keep terra (the Earth) clean, Behave kindly to the klimat (climate).
Don't lose your nada (hope).
If you want to feel cvetanje (blooming),
Esencija (flower smell) can be sustained
For a good life, our praskozorje (dawn).
To save the ambiente (environment),
Make the vasiona (universe) happy.

Nature's Plea

Nature pleads with tearful skies.
Forests speak, their leaves decree,
A plea for life, for harmony.

Beneath the sky, a plea profound,
For a world where hope is found.
Forests weep, their secrets lost,
As carbon whispers, true cost.

Winds of change, fierce and untamed,
Weather's palette, colors maimed.
Yet hope persists, a seed to sow,
Actions taken, let them grow.
Together weave a future bright,
A world reborn, in shared respite.

CLIMATE CHANGE

Calmly,
Life itself wept.
Inside, beyond our understanding, the fire crackled.
Maybe it seemed hidden, secured,
Away from every living being or corpse.
Through generations we thought it worked in our favour.
Earth – not ours so we could own it, but ours to keep it whole.

Coming in so roughly seemed like an instinct,
Heavy was our greed.
And while we were seeing our truth as a prophecy,
Nature began to shift quietly.
Greedy became life itself, wanting back what had been wrongly claimed.
Earth – torn apart, unleashing strength from within.

Nevena

Dreaming of...

Dreaming of...
the colours of the rainbow,
the bright green colour of the grass,
the yellow blazing sun.

Indigo flowers are blooming, orange leaves are falling in clean blue oceans.

Hope for a climate change!
Nature is our inspiration, red cherries are so sweet on your cheeks.

Violet sky full of stars in your eyes, a mirror for the future.

Our home

The climate home is in distress,
Mother Earth is in duress.
The storms rage on, the seas rise high,
The land grows dry, the birds don't fly.

We must act now, before it's too late,
To save our planet from this fate.
Reduce, reuse, recycle too,
For the climate home, it's up to you.

Let's plant more trees, clean the air,
Show the Earth how much we care.
Together we can make a change,
And keep our climate home from feeling strange.

The Earth

The Earth

looks like a young butterfly coming out of a cocoon sounds like the rustle of dry leaves under your feet smells like the moist summer air under the moon feels like a slow and steady heartbeat tastes like sticky honey from a wooden spoon

When I walk to school something feels off, but when I open my eyes I can see it looks rough.

Trash does not belong in the yard, it should be in the garbage bins.

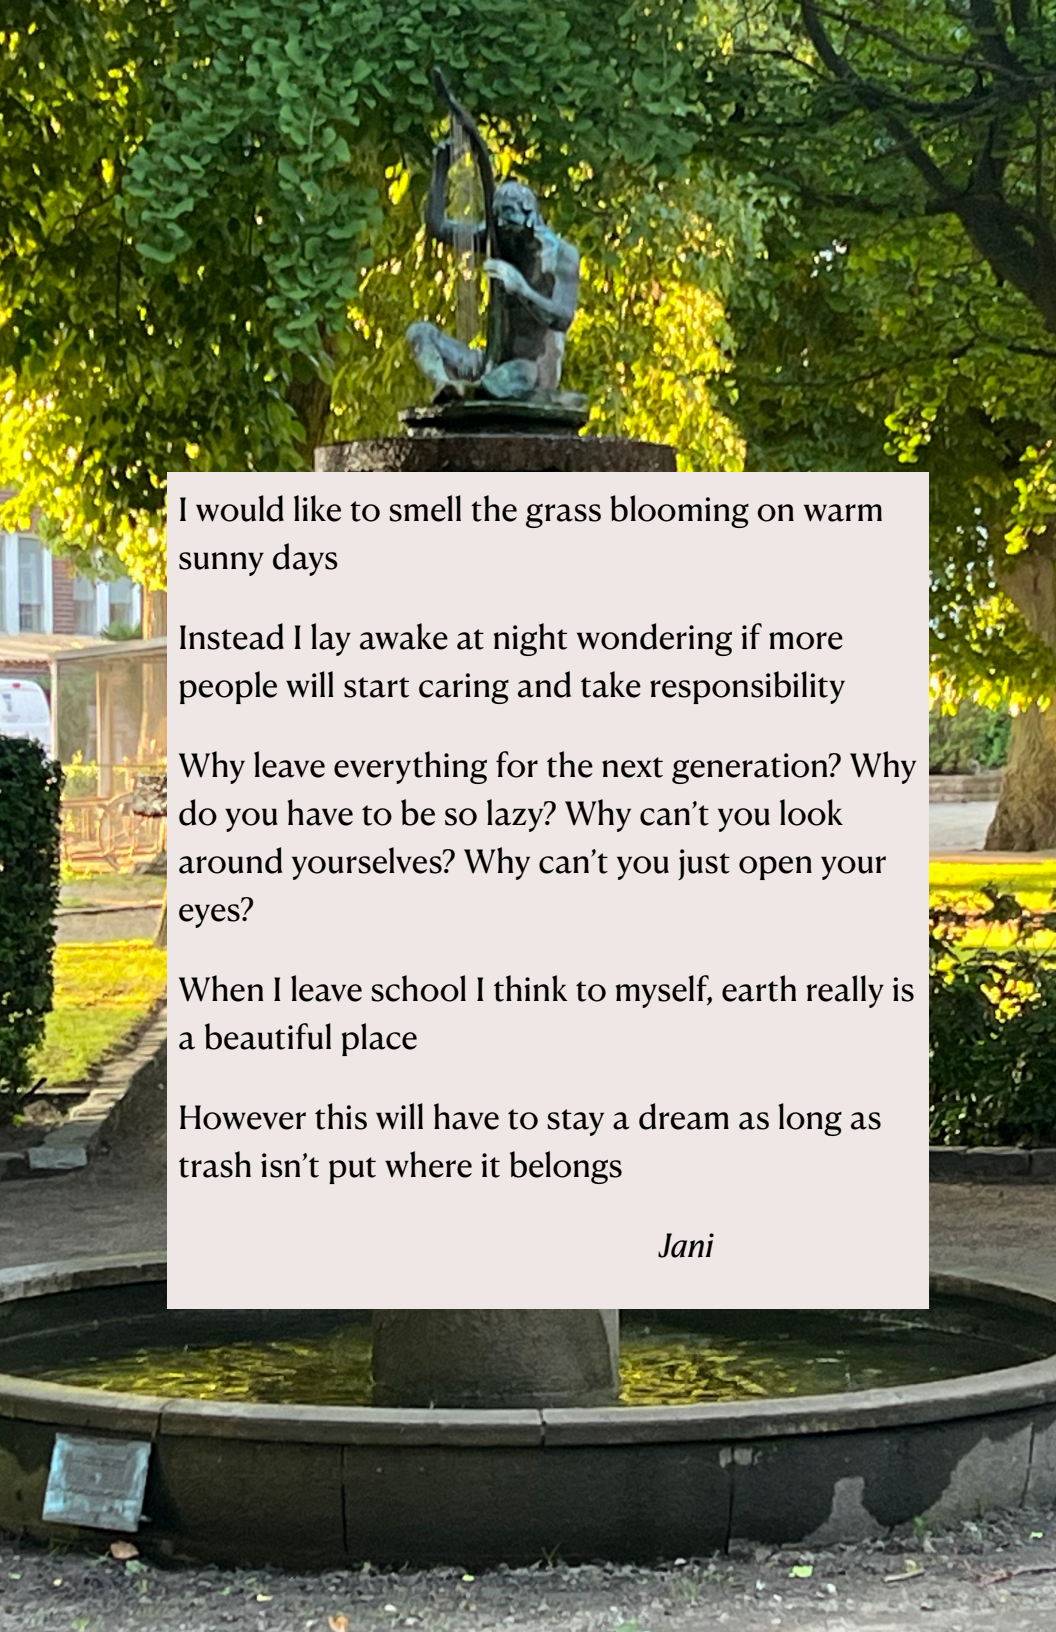

When I arrive at school I wanna see an environment that gives a good vibe.

But if we don't do something soon the flowers will say goodbye.

Bags are blowing with the wind and nobody is saving them. Cans and bottles are being littered instead of recycling them.

I would like to experience sunny and beautiful summers without storms and hurricanes.

Unfortunately everything is becoming more complicated and it only brings sadder days.

I would like to smell the grass blooming on warm sunny days

Instead I lay awake at night wondering if more people will start caring and take responsibility

Why leave everything for the next generation? Why do you have to be so lazy? Why can't you look around yourselves? Why can't you just open your eyes?

When I leave school I think to myself, earth really is a beautiful place

However this will have to stay a dream as long as trash isn't put where it belongs

The Ocean

The ocean
looks like infinity sounds like restlessness smells like freshness feels like peace tastes like freedom

Maja and Andjela

The world around me

Everything around me is starting to be grey,
The only thing I want is to breathe fresh air.

Pollution is everywhere,
we can feel it in the atmosphere.

Love your planet every day and safeguard it in every way.

The source of life

The source of life is water
If you are thirsty, just drink some water
But not everyone is able to drink water
Let us see to it so everyone can After all, the source of life is water.

Now, we have to save the planet.
All the bears cannot take this anymore.
The climate change is ruining our ecosystem.
Use sustainable products and Recycle.
Everyone must protect the environment.

Gioia

A coastal landscape featuring a large, gnarled tree with green foliage on the left, a path of tall green grass leading towards the ocean, and a rocky shoreline with white pebbles. The ocean is a deep blue, and the sky is a lighter blue with wispy white clouds.

The sea whispers like a melody
The water's dance, a peaceful symphony
We see the water wherever we go
The water Roars helplessly
The ocean life fades away

Confidence

Nature, Hope, Life

In the arms of nature we jump so easily where the waves of the water ripple.

A life, a dream so intense where the leaves of nature are so natural.

We fly high in nature, hearts jump around in time with nature's wind.
Like all the hops that dance around in nature.

In nature's rush among all the green hopes, nature gathers all its hopes into one and the same.

You should always do everything in nature, you should always have hope alive and you should always see that there is always a glimmer of light somewhere.

The superhero is tormented because of the climate to the destruction that is so full The superhero fights to reserve the trend and give us a world where we can breathe freely again

Philip

A rare beauty

Nurturing our planet, we must care and protect the beauty that is rare.
Taking action now, we can repair understanding the importance of nature everywhere.
Reversing the damage, showing we dare, ensuring a future that we can share.

Aurora

The background image is a coastal scene at dusk or dawn. In the foreground, there is a wooden boardwalk made of dark, weathered planks that leads from the bottom right towards the center. The boardwalk is flanked by tall, green grass and small white wildflowers. In the middle ground, the ocean is visible with gentle waves breaking. The sky is a mix of blue, orange, and yellow, with some light clouds. The overall mood is serene and contemplative.

the ice is melting the forest is burning the earth cries
the ice shines the forest thrives
the earth shines

There is no saving Planet Earth
Without people
No people Without land

There is no land

Eternally

Certainly, I will always Love my planet.

I'm sure, my life spent with it will be full and joyful.

Eternally.

Because of the colors of oceans, sky and landscapes.

I will always Love my planet

Clarissa

A letter to Earth

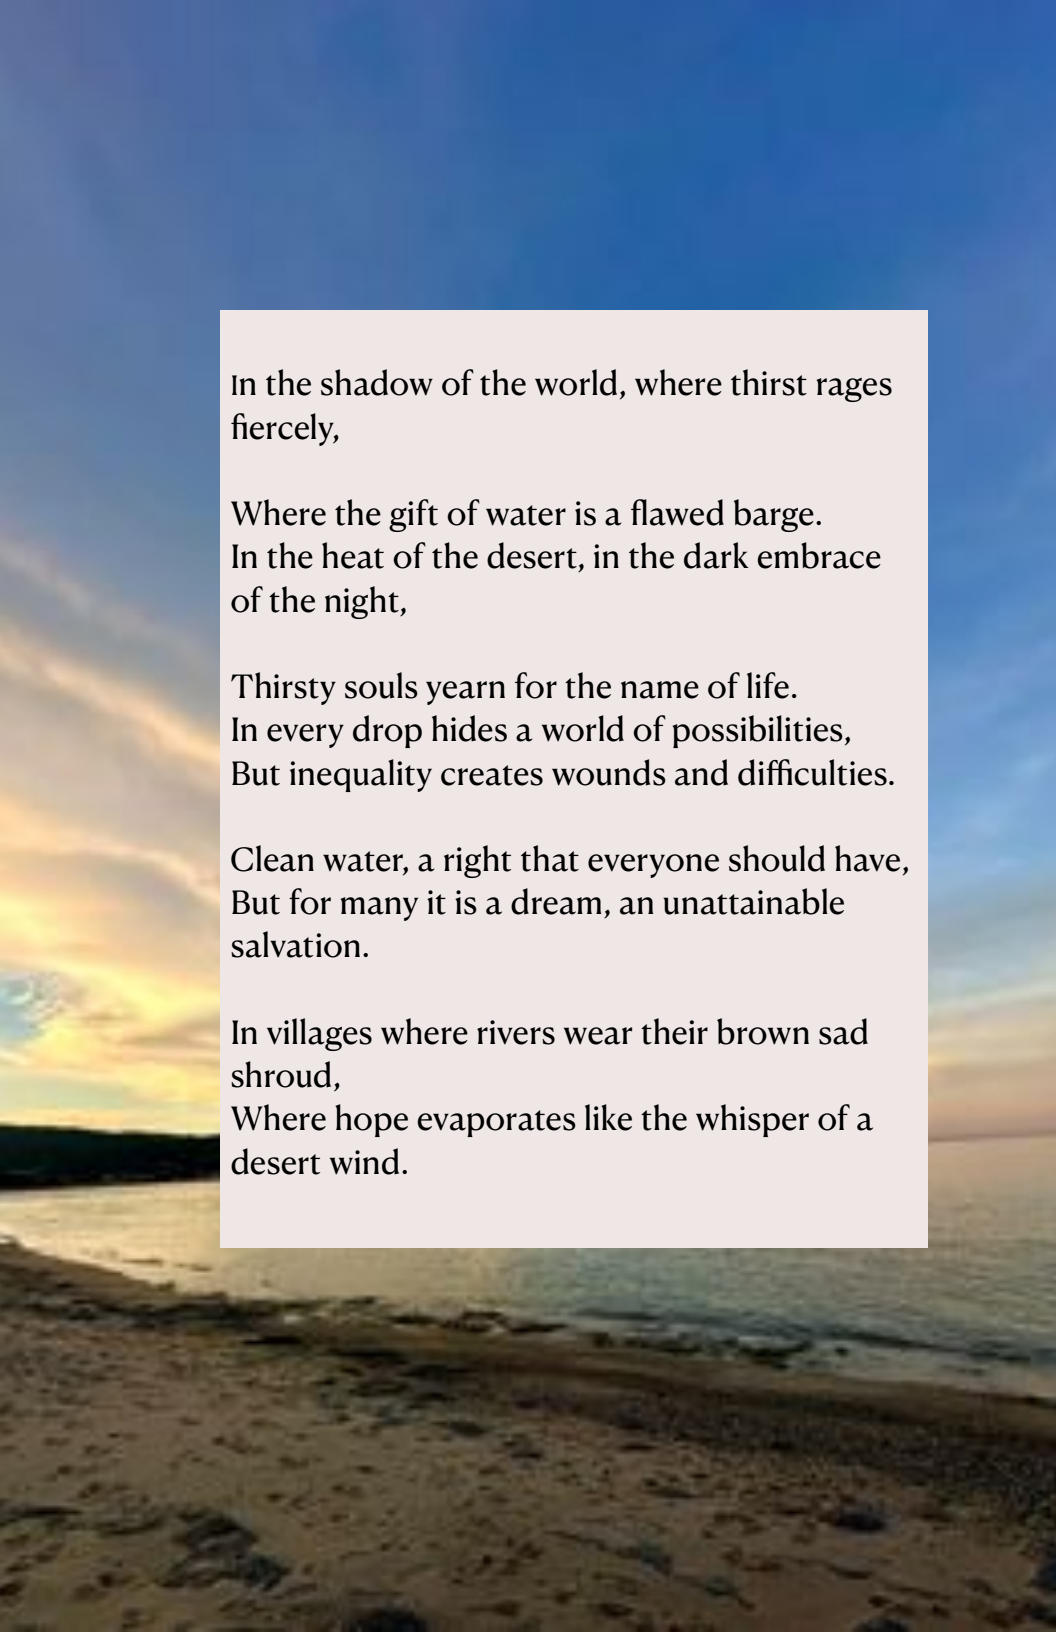

My dear Earth,

Is your crust still stiffly held together like it once was?

Or had the hottest pressure crushed it heartlessly long before your face saw its wonders?

I hope you're doing well. I hope you live in some sort of technologically advanced world. With long ago devastated beauties. I hope you will be fine.

Ognjen

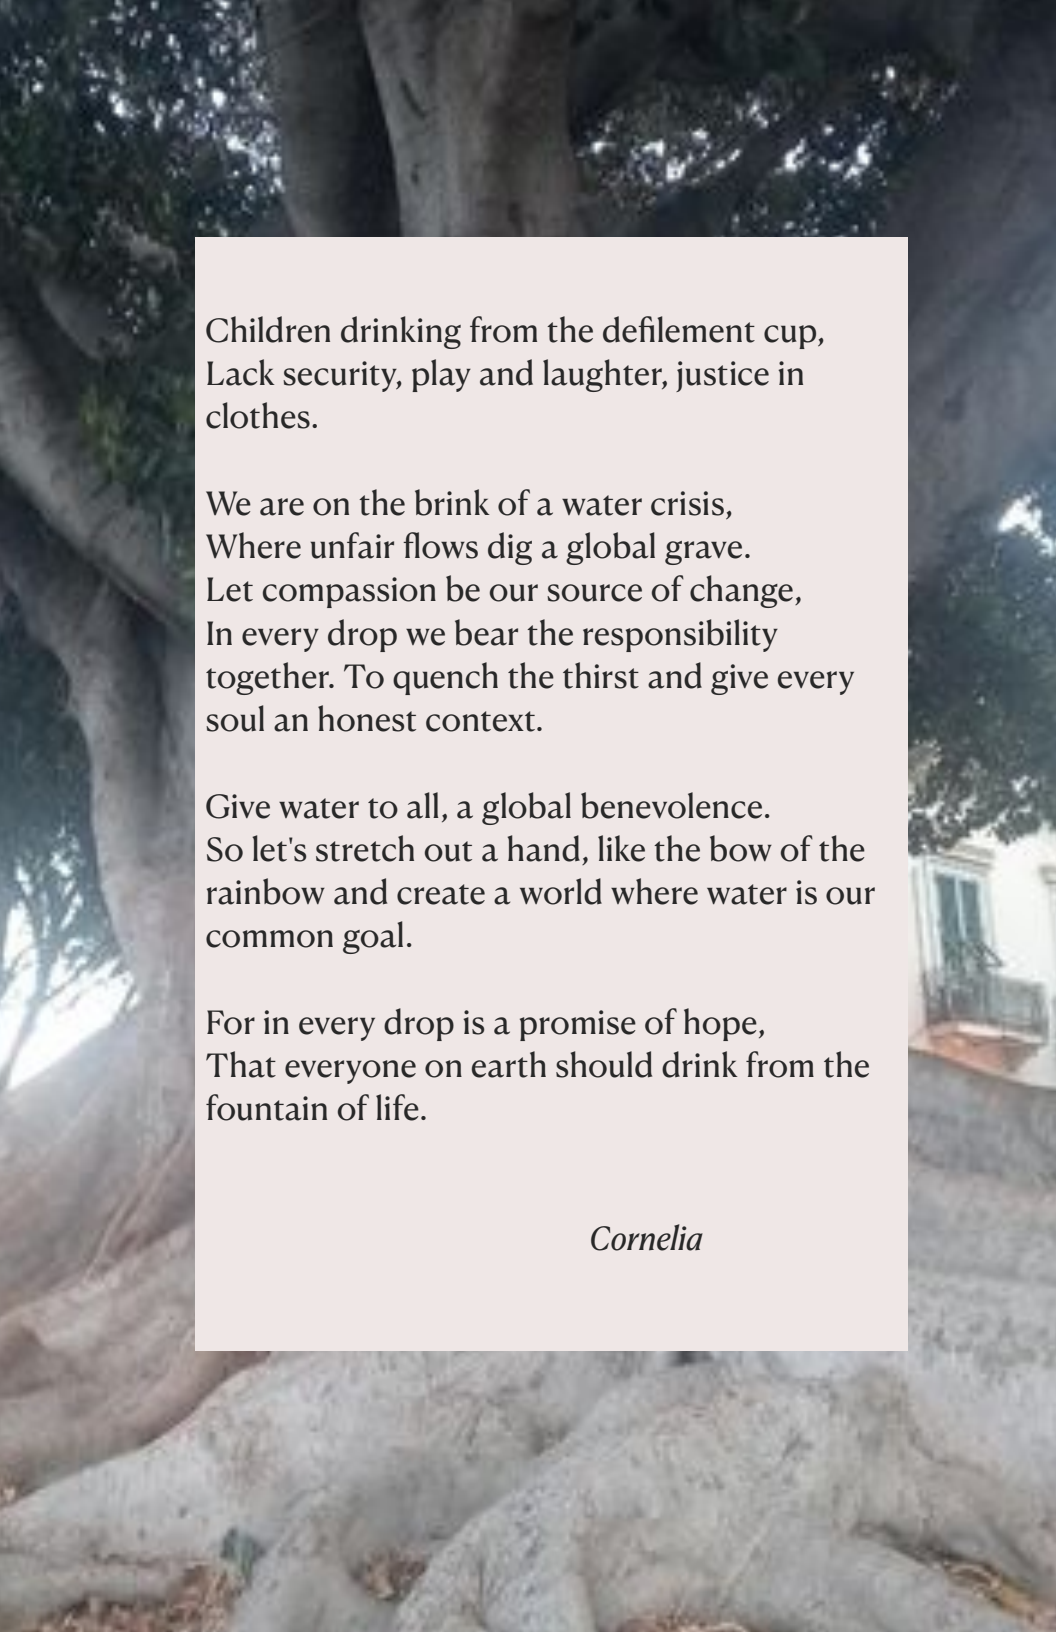

In the shadow of the world, where thirst rages fiercely,

Where the gift of water is a flawed barge.
In the heat of the desert, in the dark embrace of the night,

Thirsty souls yearn for the name of life.
In every drop hides a world of possibilities,
But inequality creates wounds and difficulties.

Clean water, a right that everyone should have,
But for many it is a dream, an unattainable salvation.

In villages where rivers wear their brown sad shroud,
Where hope evaporates like the whisper of a desert wind.

Children drinking from the defilement cup, Lack security, play and laughter, justice in clothes.

We are on the brink of a water crisis,
Where unfair flows dig a global grave.
Let compassion be our source of change,
In every drop we bear the responsibility together. To quench the thirst and give every soul an honest context.

Give water to all, a global benevolence.
So let's stretch out a hand, like the bow of the rainbow and create a world where water is our common goal.

For in every drop is a promise of hope,
That everyone on earth should drink from the fountain of life.

Cornelia

Planet

The forests burn, the sky turns grey,
The animals run away,
The seasons blur,
The planet, in grief, trembles.

Planet is big, save it!

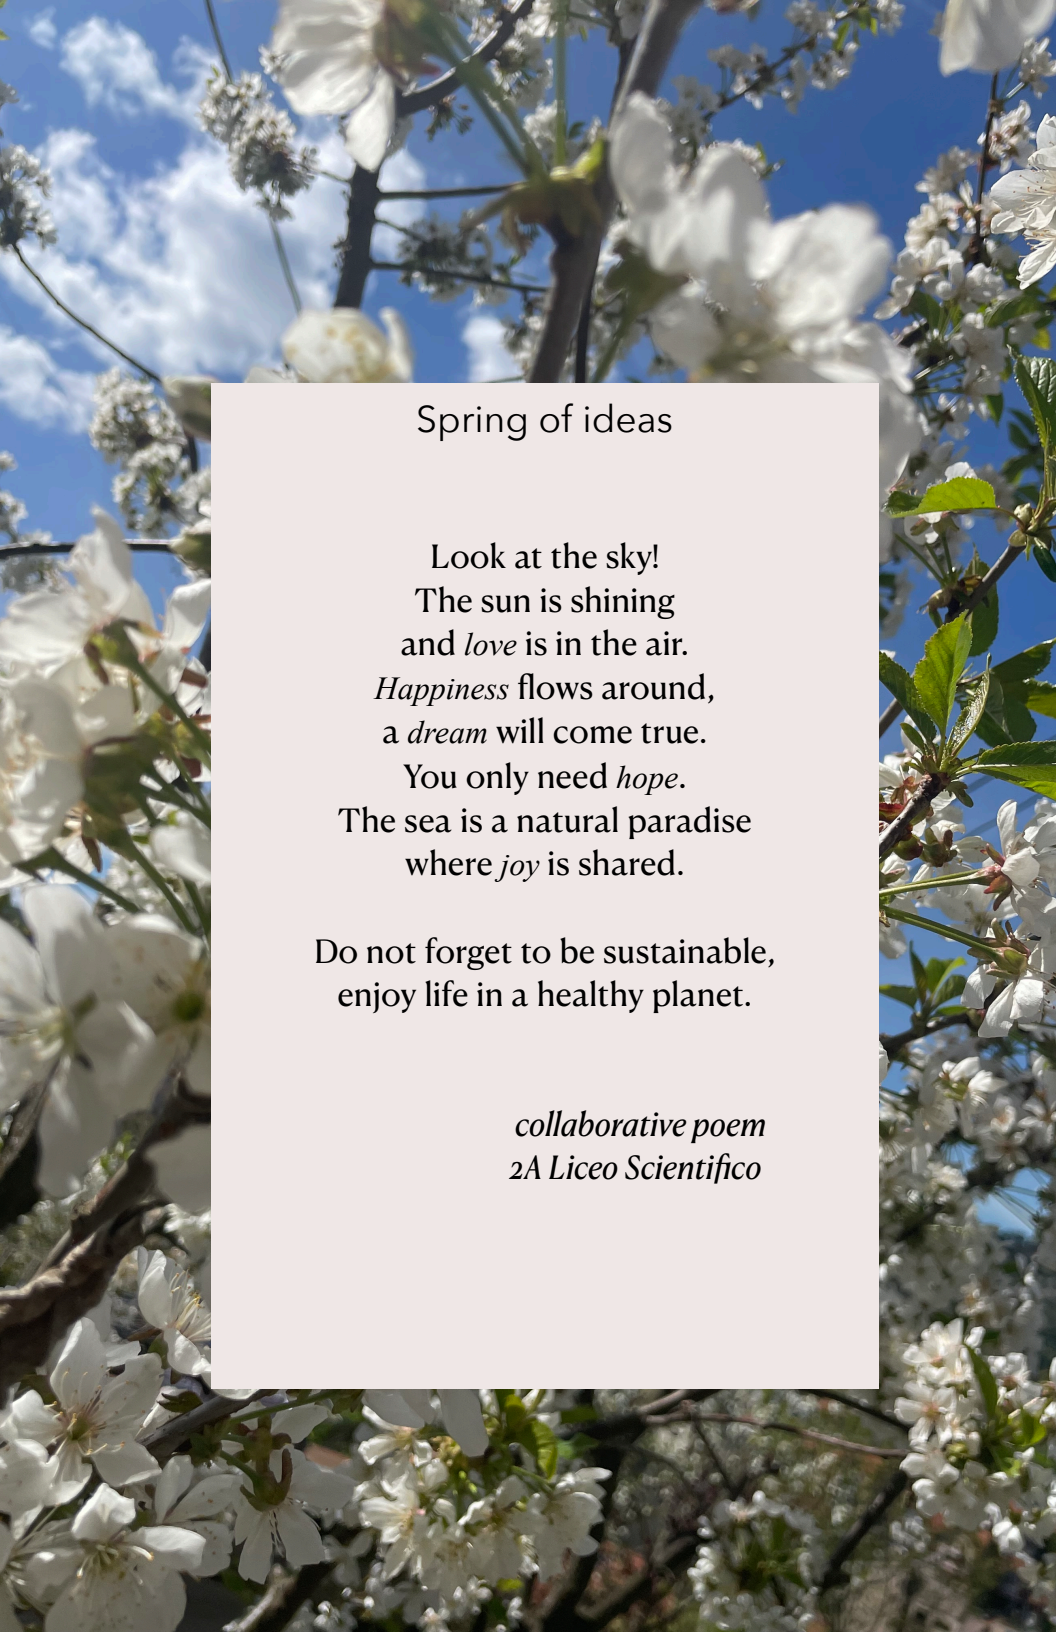

The sun shines bright.
The Earth is alive,
let's work together
With hope in our hearts.

We'll make a change!

Nature is the essence of life,
Nature is our balance,
Nature is an opportunity,
Nature does not hurry.

Love your planet!

Luisa, Ottavio, Sofia, Sara and Asia

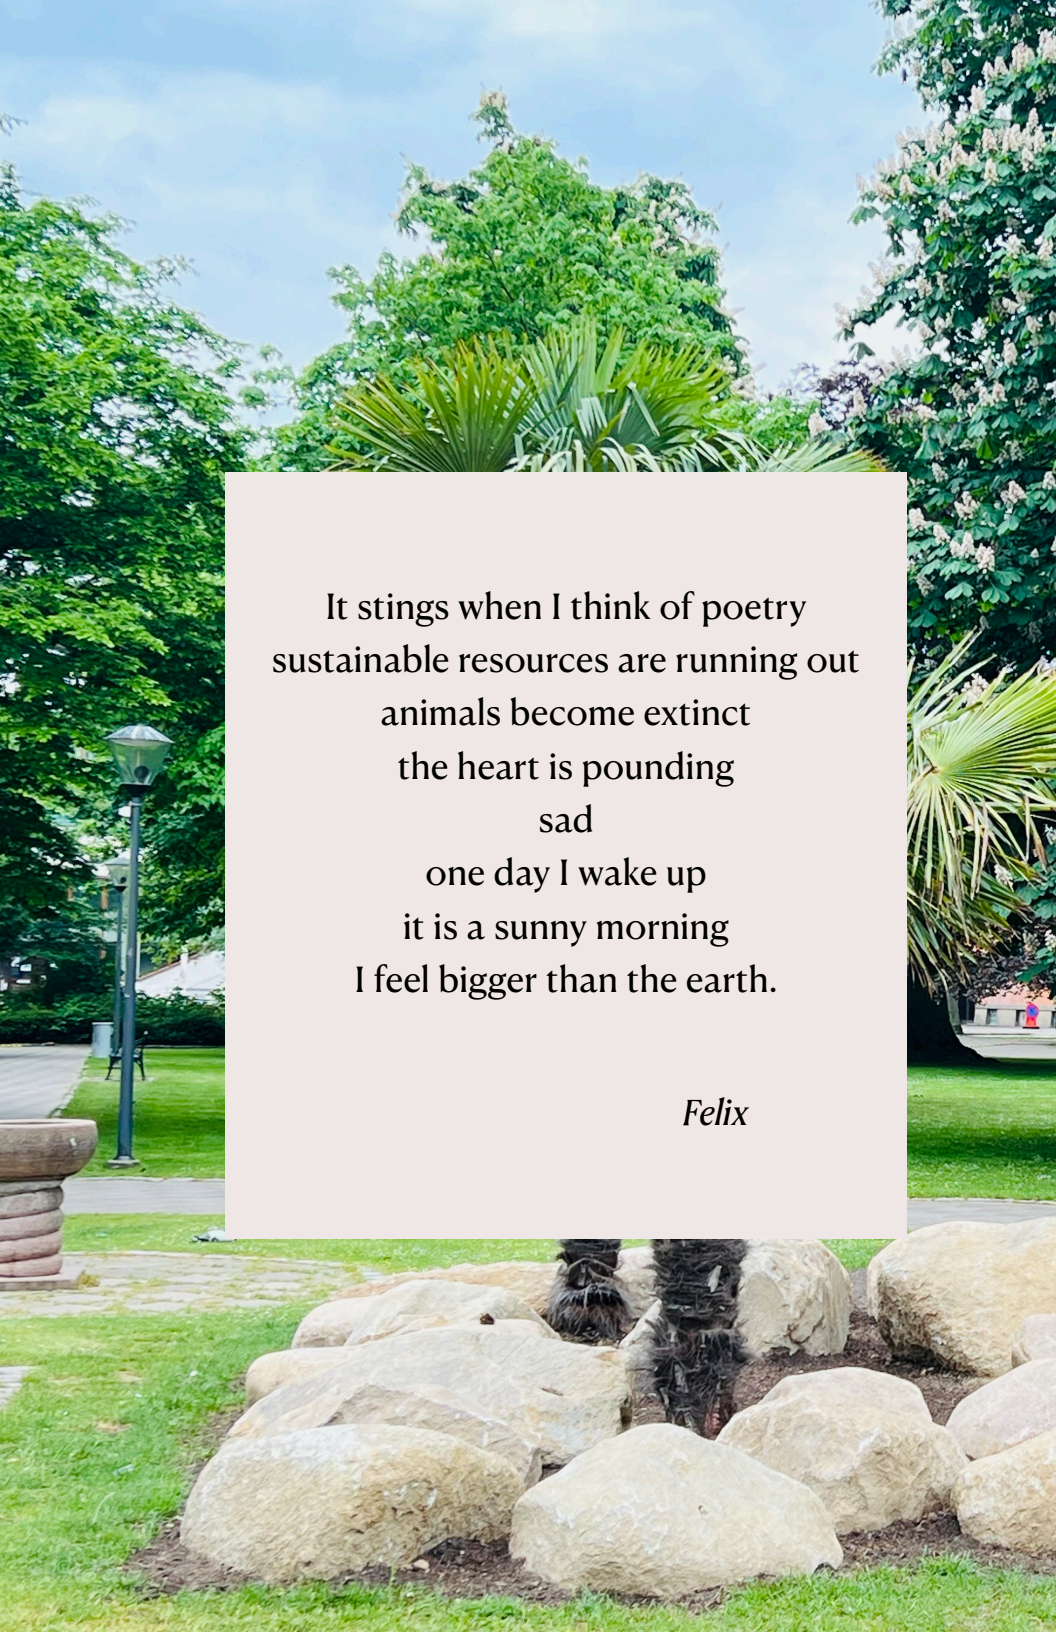

Spring of ideas

Look at the sky!
The sun is shining and love is in the air.
Happiness flows around,
a dream will come true.
You only need hope.
The sea is a natural paradise where joy is shared.

Do not forget to be sustainable, enjoy life in a healthy planet.

A lush garden scene with various plants, trees, and a stone path. In the foreground, there are large, light-colored rocks arranged in a circular pattern on a grassy area. Behind the rocks, a black and white dog is visible. To the left, a green lamppost stands on a paved path. The background is filled with dense green foliage, including palm trees and flowering bushes, under a blue sky with light clouds.

It stings when I think of poetry sustainable resources are running out animals become extinct the heart is pounding sad
one day I wake up
it is a sunny morning
I feel bigger than the earth.
